GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 16.—Midnight.—In the House of Commons to-night, the consideration of the Irish Church Bill was continued. Mr. Gladstone approved the amendment granting half a million of pounds for private endowments made prior to 1616, but moved to disagree to the provisions for the continuation of the Ulster grants.

Mr. D'Israeli thought the proposal of the Lords reasonable.

Mr. Stafford Northcote thought Mr. Gladstone's proposal would convert the Established Church into a voluntary missionary church. He asked as an act of justice and expediency that the Glebes should be left.

Roundell Palmer supported the Lords' amendment.

The amendment granting half a million pounds for private endowments was agreed to.

The amendment containing the Ulster grants was rejected by 345 to 240. The announcement was cheered from the ministerial benches.

Mr. D'Israeli intimated that it was not necessary for the House to divide on the other amendments, except that of postponing the disposition of the surplus funds.

Mr. Gladstone moved to disagree, and Mr. D'Israeli supported the Lords' amendment. He thought the Government plans not matured, and that they ought to be left for future consideration.

Mr. Bright said the distribution of the surplus was a different matter. The Government had made minute inquiry as to the suitable distinction of income arising from the surplus. He had no interest other than any member of the House, or contrary to the wishes of the Irish people. Every one acknowledged that the money was the property of the Irish, and ought to be appropriated to the benefit of Ireland. This plan was open to the least objection. To leave the question open would only pave the way for future embarrassment. He appealed to the House not to put an obstacle in the way of the passage of the bill.

The amendment of the Lords was then rejected by 290 against 218. Great cheers greeted the result.

After the rejection of the amendment proposed by the Peers, Mr. D'Israeli took the floor and spoke at some length. He regretted the repudiation of the amendments adopted in the House of Lords. The Church was not the question at issue at the late elections. He thought the agreement of the Lords to send the bill the second time was an act of magnanimity, considering the majority unfavorable to the measure, and the agreement was only given under the understanding that Commons would consider the amendments in a conciliatory spirit. He could not understand how the course the Government had taken could be reconciled to the expectations held out to the House of Lords.

Mr. Gladstone replied, saying that the promise given to the House of Lords was that the amendments which could be approved would be respectfully considered, and he maintained that the pledge had not been violated. He had conceded much in deference to the Lords, and had fulfilled, more than fulfilled, the pledge which he had given. (Great cheering.) He was certain that if any harm had been done to the Church, it was by those who described the grievous and enervating effect disestablishment would have on the zeal and life of the religious community. If the church was destitute of energy and vigor, the sooner they quitted it the better. He must fill the solemn protest against the degrading, disheartening convictions and express an humble and confident expectation. Though time and trial intervened, the members of the church will regard the day of the passage of this act as the day of their religious regeneration.

Right Hon. Gathorne Hardy then took the floor. He accepted the appeal made to posterity in regard to the beneficial effects of the bill. He supported Mr. D'Israeli's statement, that John Bright had used threats of dissolution of Parliament to keep the party together and coerce the House of Lords. He considered the Lords as a co-ordinate authority and thought they had been treated in an unworthy manner.

Mr. Bright denied he had ever used threats of dissolution. His only reference to the subject was, that there might be an expression of popular opinion on the subject of concurrent endowment, were it referred to the nation. He regretted this unfounded charge which had been brought forward, but which the great majority of the House disbelieved.

After further debate, a committee was appointed to draw up a report embodying the reasons for disagreement to the amendments proposed by the House of Lords. Adjourned.

It is said that the Lords will give up their amendments to the Irish Church bill in regard to concurrent endowments and Ulster grants, but will adhere to the amendments refusing to devote surplus proceeds of church property to the relief of unavoidable calamity and suffering as proposed in the original preamble, and deferring the appropriation of the fund.

Change of Gauge on Missouri Pacific Railroad—Biggest Day's Work on Record—Great Damage by Storm.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 18—The gauge throughout the entire line of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, a distance of three hundred and eight miles, was changed between the hours of four A. M. and eight P. M. to day. This is said to be the greatest day's work of a similar character that was ever done.

The storm which was reported as having occurred at Laynton, Mo., on Wednesday, amounted to a tornado and swept over a portion of Clay and Lafayette counties, doing very great damage. At Lexington the Catholic church was wholly and the Presbyterian church partially unroofed. Quite a number of private houses lost their roofs and were otherwise damaged, and trees, chimnies, fences, &c., were blown down. All the saw mills on the river were unroofed and their chimnies knocked down. Similar damage was done at Dover and at Waverly. At Richmond, Ray county, the storm was very severe. The court house was unroofed and considerably damaged. The Christian church, a new building not fully completed, was totally demolished. The Methodist church was unroofed and one of the windows blown in. The Shaw House was very badly injured. Around the square a large number of buildings were blown down, unroofed and otherwise injured, and scattered about through the city dwellings, business houses, &c., were demolished, unroofed and otherwise injured. The corn fields, wheat fields, orchards, fences, &c., throughout the country were frightfully damaged and houses torn to pieces by the wind. The devastation to the entire country is incalculable.

In Clay county the storm was terrible. Wheat, corn, fruit trees, forest trees and fences went down before it, and the country on its line of march is filled with ruin.

The storm at this point last night broke the heated term, and to-day the weather has been cloudy and cool. The mercury at 9 A. M., stood at 72, at noon 74, and at 8 P. M. 83.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17, 1869.

The Western Union Telegraph Club to-day beat the Stock Exchange Club at base ball by fifty-three to thirty-one.

The report that the captured filibusters were taken to Fort Lafayette was incorrect. They were kept on board the cutter Mahoning, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, until this evening, when the men were all released and left with cheers for Cuba. Quite a number of them were from Richmond, Va., and have served in the rebel army. It is said no more expeditions will be attempted from this vicinity, the Cuban Junta having decided to make a Southern port their base of operations. A steamer is reported to have sailed for that port, and the men released to-day will all proceed thither in small squads and embark on board her for their original destination.

At Union Course to-day the trot, mile and repeat, to harness, between American Girl and Mountain Boy, was won by the former in two straight heats. Time 2:23¼, 2:21¾.

BOSTON, July 17.—The large quantity of lager seized July 6th in the saloon of Brothers Pfaff, was returned to them to-day. No! the zephyr murmurs yearning
Through this quiet poplar dell.

Silence! the hedge-row was parted,
Rustling while one through it crept.
No! a frightened bird then darted
From the copse, and onward swept.

A voice with the still air is blending,
Softly, in whispers fond?
No! the circling swan is sending
Ripples o'er the silver pond.

Hear I not feet lightly moving
Over the gravel strewn path?
No! the falling fruit is proving Ripeness from the weight it hath.

Do I not see a white shimm'ring,
Shining with silk's sheeny fall?
No! the pillar there is glimm'ring
'Gainst the shadowed yewen wall.

And soft, while from heaven's clearness:
The moments all happy descend,
Nigh she came, unseen in her nearness,
And wakened with kisses her friend.

—It appears that all copies of foreign paintings are not executed for the American market. A Mr. Constable, son of the celebrated English artist of that name, writes to the Illustrated London News to warn picture-buyers that there is a manufactory somewhere of paintings sold as works of his eminent father; works made up from mezzotints of genuine pictures, but done by people who forget that Constable could draw, and was also a colorist. —The New York subscribers to the Humboldt monument fund held a meeting at Delmonico's, on Thursday last. The bronze bust, which is to be placed in the Central Park, and inaugurated on September 14th, the centennial of Humboldt's birthday, has been finished by the Berlin artist, Prof. Blaeser, and is highly spoken of by all who have seen it. Most of the time of the meeting was taken up by two individuals, one of whom wanted to sell out the bust and raise money for a statue, and the other to erect a sort of monument inclosing the bust, and surmounted by a globe, like those used in the public schools. The discussion on this latter project was carried on in German. On the question of selling out the bust four voted in the negative and three in the affirmative. A gentleman requested permission for the Germans of Pittsburgh to obtain a duplicate of the bust, which was granted on condition thal they pay half the cost of the model.

The Wedding Nuisance.

N. Y. Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.

I want to say a few words on the indecorous publicity given of late to fashionable weddings. One might almost suppose that society had made up its mind to abandon all sense of propriety, and set up opposition to the sensational and partially nude drama. For weeks, sometimes months before-hand, weddings are announced to come off. From that moment every step in the preparation is the subject of newspaper paragraphs, and the gentle, modest, shrinking bride shares her trembling hopes with about two hundred and twenty-seven thousand people, who read the New York dailies. As a general thing, the fewer claims the parties have to distinction in society, the greater is the noise they make, and for the simple reason that the poor fools think it is getting into society to "do up" this manner of thing splendidly. A fashionable preacher is bespoken for the nuptial ceremony, a fashionable church is secured for the theatre of the show, a stunning organist is hired for the occasion, gorgeous array is provided, an array of milliners are employed, business at Ball & Black's, and Tiffany's is made lively, a platoon of bridesmaids is secured, preparation for a bridal dejeuner a la fourchette at one house, and a grand reception at another is made—all the families of all the tribes connected with the high contracting parties are laid under contribution for bridal presents; all these things are done with lavish expenditure, and alt these things are daily paraded in the columns of the Glass of Fashion and the Evening Reflector. When the eventful day arrives, the shrinking bride passes inspection under the fire of from one to two thousand pairs of eyes, the whole affair is transacted coram populo, and the city papers are straightway filled with a full, true and particular account of the details; of the snobbishness displayed, the vulgarity and plutocracy of the performance; what the bride wore, how the bridesmaids were dressed—the moire antique and diamonds of the bride's mother—the black satin and pearls of the bridegroom's sister, the diamonds of Mrs. A., the diamonds of Mrs. B., the diamonds of Mrs. C., the diamonds of Mrs. D., the check of $1,000 presented by the bride's father, the catalogue of wedding presents, and so on, usque ad nauseam. And now, having feasted so long on such delightful details as these, the jaded appetite of an omnivorous public begins to require some stimulant, and so a new feature is introduced, a charming feature, a delicate feature. It is the description of the bride's trosseau. Really it appears to me there is only one more step to take—but I return to the trosseau. One of our daily papers, this morning, announces that "metropolitan society" is soon to enjoy a genuine sensation" in the wedding of Baron L. and Miss T. The Baron, you must know, is a young gentleman of wealth and high social position and culture, who came to this country a year ago on a pleasure trip, "accompanied by two friends," and hum-hum-hum, "two or three servants," hum-hum-hum. During his travels, we are further informed, "he visited Newport and Saratoga incog.," hum-hum-hum. Only think—hum—of his self-denial in consenting to shroud the effulgence of his hum-hum-hum baron's title under the shadow of plain Mr. !! But my business just now is not with this man. The sensational article I refer to, which is headed, "The Flutter of Fashion," plunges at once, with panting haste, into the trousseau, and with proper and refined delicacy starts off with the information that "four dozen pieces are included in the lingerie department, each article of underclothing being exquisitely embroidered and trimmed entire with red lace. Some of the underskirts are trimmed with lace and embroidery almost (don't you like 'almost?') to the waist." But my pen refuses to proceed, and I stop to revel in the exquisite picture presented. To be told that such things exist is nothing. We know that already. But to be told that they are made for and to be worn by Mrs. Baron so-and-so, nee Bessie Throckmorton, is something delightful. Years ago I heard an indiscreet girl boasting to a companion: "Sister Sal is going to be married and has a dozen of everything made up." A dozen of everything was a stunner for that little companion; but four dozen of everything! The imagination almost fails to take it in. But that is not all. The young lady, this lucky Bessie, among all women blessed, has "sleeves, collars, lace, chemisettes, cuffs, handkerchiefs and bows in the greatest and most extravagant profusion." Eight pairs of shoes, richly ornamented with rosettes, six pairs of beautiful kid slippers; five round or jocky hats trimmed with feathers or birds, costing from $20 to $40 apiece; six lace parasols, each over a different colored silk, and one of them with a genuine coral handle, valued at $150; two sea-side umbrellas; six stylish breakfast sacks, the description of which would drive you crazy; blonde lace, white lace, lace striped with gold, lama lace shawls, sacks and mantillas. Surely the possessor of all these lovely things need never want to go to heaven. Into this description of the dresses I dare not venture. "That way lies madness. Let me not forget the statement that "stockings, garters, &c., are in profusion. Stockings and and garters I have some misty perception of, but I should feel that I do myself an injury were I to indulge in any vain attempt to fathom the mysteries of that etc. With a consideration for which we should be grateful, the reporter does not "anticipate the magnificence of the bridal robe, but" reserves it "for his account of the wedding." We may sleep more soundly for the information that "the trousseau is insured." The article closes with the perfectly delicious announcement "that owing to the recent death in their family, the wedding is to be private, but will be followed by a grand dejeuner and reception, to which a number of distinguished people have been invited." A sacred thing is grief.

A Perfect Horse.

"In weight she might have turned, when well conditioned, nine hundred and fifty pounds. In color she was a dark chestnut, with a velvety depth, and soft look about the hair indescribably rich and elegant. Many a time have I heard ladies dispute the shade and hue of her plush-like coat as they ran their white, jewelled fingers through her silken hair. Her body was round in the barrel, and perfectly symmetrical. She was wide in the haunches, without projection of the hip-bones, upon which the shorter ribs seemed to lap. High in the withers as she was, the line of her back and neck perfectly curved, while her deep, oblique shoulders and long thick fore-arm, rigidy with swelling sinews, suggesting the perfection of stride and power. Her knees across the pan were wide, the cannon-bone below them short and thin; the pasterns long and sloping; her hoofs round, dark, shiny and well set on. Her mane was a shade darker than her coat, fine and thin, as a thorough-bred's always is whose blood is without taint or cross. Her ear was thin, sharply pointed, delicately curved, nearly black around the borders, and as tremulous as the leaves of an aspen. Her neck rose from the withers to the head in perfect curvature, hard, devoid of fat, and well cut up under the chops. Her nostrils were full, very full, and thin almost as parchment. The eyes, from which tears might fall or fire flash, were well brought out, soft as a gazelle's almost human in their intelligence, while over the small bony head, over neck and shoulders, yea, over the whole body and clean down to the hoofs, the veins stood out as if the skin were but tissue paper against which the warm blood pressed, and which it might at any moment burst asunder. 'A perfect animal,' I said to myself, as I lay looking her over—'an animal which might have been born from the wind and the sunshine, so cheerful and so swift she seems; an animal which a man would present as his choicest gift to the woman he loved, and yet one which that woman, wife or lady-love, would give him to ride when honor and life depended on bottom and speed.'"—Atlantic Monthly.

The trial of Ah Choy and Ah Sam, now going on in the District Court, for the murder of Ah Son, says the Silver City (I. T.) Tidal Wave, is creating a greater interest that any trial that has ever occurred here, on account of the novelty of the method of swearing witnesses. A rooster's head is hacked off with a knife, a saucer broken, the oath written on yellow paper, burned, and the smoke, in which is supposed to be the spirit of the burned oath, blown up to heaven in each case. The prosecution and defense each swore five witnesses, killed five chickens, broke five saucers, burned five pieces of paper, &c. After killing the chickens they are thrown away by the Chinamen and considered unfit for use; but having had their throats cut, nicely bled, &c., the American heathen consider them none the worse for having been sworn by, and we confess to having been guilty of the sacrilege of assisting to devour a portion that was really fat, tender and good to our unsanctified palate.

A FEW days since, a man well known in New York society—not young, and who could not dance, was sitting at a party, near a young lady, and watching the mazes of the "German." He turned to her, knowing her well, and said, "I wish you would let me put my arm around your waist." Of course she looked at him in amazement. "Oh," said he, "you know I can't dance, but I don't see the difference. All those young men have their arms about the girls' waists, and why should not I have the same privilege, thought I sit still?" That man's head is level. I think so.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instanees, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
SATURDAY July 17, 1869. }

The oil market has been moderately active this week, there having been a fair volume of business in the aggregate, while prices are a fraction lower, and the feeling to-day, particularly for refined, was weak and drooping. The most important feature we have to notice, was the discovery of a discrepancy in the report of the Titusville Herald for the month of June, which changes the situation materially in regard to the production. Instead of a decrease of something like one hundred barrels per day, as the report of the Herald made it, there has been an increase of over seven hundred barrels per day, compared with the month preceding. It is fair to add that no sooner was the discrepancy discovered, than the Herald made necessary corrections, thus evincing a disposition to do what is right aud just in regard to the matter. So soon as it was ascertained that the production had actually increased instead of having decreased, the market weakened considerably, and prices ruled lower, and the feeling generally, is not as strong as it was at the begining of the week.

Receipts Crude this week, 14,280 bbls; last week, 27,777; from January 1st to date, 436,935; same time last year, 630,289. Exports Refined, this week, 15,559 bbls; last week, 12,083; from January 1st to date, 247,710; same time last year 309,213. Sales this week 87,161; last week 57,300.

CRUDE.

The Crude market is a shade stronger than it was on Wednesday and Thursday, and sellers generally are endeavoring to spring a slight advance. Spot or seller this month is held at 14⅝@14¾, with but very few buyers above 14½. Sale 1,400 bbls spot (43 gravity) at 14¾, and 1,000 seller July at 14⅝. We are cognizant of an offer to sell 5,000 bbls, seller all year, at 14, without finding a buyer. Buyer all year, nominal at 16½.

REFINED.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about at a stand last evening, but there will certainly be another rise after the rains of Saturday night and yesterday, and we should not be surprised to see both rivers almost bankfull within the next twenty-four hours. The weather is considerably cooler, the mercury at 5 P. M. being down to 68, a fall within a short time of about 25 degrees.

The Julia No, 2 from Zanesville, is due this morning, also the Kate Putnam from Cincinnati. The Putnam will probabbly reload for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Monongahela marks indicated 8 feet six inches last evening.

The Lorena, Capt. Sam. Shannon, will be the first boat out for St. Louis; she will get off about the middle of the week.

Business at the landing continues dull, freight for all points being scarce.

The Bellevernon departed for St. Louis on Saturday evening, with a moderate trip. Pilots, Goslee and Ferguson.

The Glasgow and R. C. Gray were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Saturday.

The Kate Putnam, from Cincinnati, is the only arrival we have to report. She was only a week in making the round trip, having left here last Saturday week.

—The Belle left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

—The Wauanita left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

—Capt. Ben Laughlin has bought Capt. McCarty's interest in the Armadillo.

—The Olive Branch and Mississippi will run during the fall and winter between Memphis and New Orleans.

—It was reported in Memphis Tuesday that William Haines, pilot of the W. A. Caldwell, had shot and killed the mate of the same boat in a difficulty on board below Little Rock. The report was discredited.

—Capt. M. A. Cox of the Collossal is out in a card in the St. Louis Democrat, denying that he had been stabbed by a roustabout at Sioux City. It was the Captain of the Bertha, not Capt. Cox that was stabbed.

—A Cairo dispatch says: The Blue Lodge has been laid up in the bend above Cairo for three days, with a tow of coal from Pittsburgh. She came down to Cairo Tuesday night, but her future destination is uncertain.

—The Vicksburg, formerly the Louisville, which is to be dismantled at Louisville, was built at New Albany in 1862, by Captain Ford, having the machinery of the old Kate Frisbie, the pioneer packet in the Vicksburg and Memphis trade.

—The officers of the Des Arc report the crops on White River as in a flourishing condition, with promises of a larger yield than any time since the war. The planters feel buoyant, and good and prosperous times are anticipated this fall.

—The Davenport Gazette of Wednesday says: The Secretary of War has made the following allotments from the appropriations for improving rivers and harbors, approved on the 10th of last April: Rock Island rapids, $135,000; Des Moines rapids, 180,000. And the sand bars at the mouth of the Mississippi get $45,000.

—The County Commissioners of Switzerland county, Ind., yesterday presented a bill to the United States Mail Company for the amount of Coroner's fees in cases of inquests held on the bodies of victims to the United States and America last December. The bill was paid. This is the first time we ever heard of an individual or private corporation being held liable for such fees. Switzerland county, Ind., probably makes its own laws.—Cincinnati Gazette.

—A new experiment is about being made on the Mississippi with direct reference to further cheapening the transportation of grain. A company of steamboatmen, it is reported, are about contracting here for an iron propellor, two hundred and eighty-four feet long, drawing two feet forward and four aft, when light, and six feet on an even keel when loaded. The first boat is intended as experimental in competing with the barge system. Should it prove a success several others will be immediately contracted for.

—The Evansville telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial says: Judge Ben. Cassell, in the case of Capt. Joe. McReynolds, of the steamer Hartford vs. the Green and Barren River Navigation Co., decided the law leasing the public works on Green River to a corporation unconstitutional, and granted an injunction restraining the company from interrupting the navigation of Green River. This is an important decision, and if sustained will leave the navigation of the river free. The decision gives general satisfaction along Green River.

WE PRINT this morning the programme of the proceedings of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association, to be held August 10th at Greensburg.

◆

WHEN a Connecticut Yankee professes his willingness to pay a quarter of a million dollars to get an office, it may be presumed that he "rayther calculates" on getting his money back again. How?

◆

HAS the PACKER fund, a quarter of a million bribe-money, been evenly divided among the Democracy? A fair partition would give six bits apiece, but hasn't some of the crowd grabbed more than their share?

◆

THE list of the new Democratic State Committee is very properly headed by MCMULLIN, the leader of the Philadelphia "Dead Rabbits." His crowd are not to be balked of their show in PACKER's quarter of a million corruption money.

◆

IS THE lion about to lie down with the lamb? Next to a "nigger" our Democracy have always hated the "Yankees," yet Christian charity has prevailed at last, and they have nominated a Connecticut Yankee for Governor. Well! they might have done worse, although it will be hard to find in "Old Berks" believers for that!

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE is slow to face the music in the YERGER case. His postponement is however interpreted favorably to the final release of that murderer, whose friends declare that the Judge has already virtually promised to them such a decision. From Mississippi, we hear that the case excites much feeling, and his release would be deplored as a great calamity to the Union cause, as well as to the interests of Justice.

IT IS SAID that Secretary FISH originated the new scheme for the purchase of Cuba by the Cubans themselves, the United States going bail for the money. Truly a wise proposition, no matter with whom it originated! We doubt the Secretary's responsibility therefor. Endorsing the Cuban bonds means simply that we should eventually have every dollar of the money to pay and trust to luck to get the Island for our security. If any Bohemian, in the pay of the Cuban Committee, can show us how this differs, except for the worse, from the out and out purchase by ourselves at once, we should like to hear from him.

THE rebel policy in Virginia and Mississippi is to use "Conservative Republican" candidates for the Governor's office as stalking-horses, with good sound rebels behind them for Lieutenants. The Governor is then to be transferred to the U.S. Senate, and his successor makes everything right for the reviving cause of Mississippi. Gen. AMES says:

> "The Republican party in the State is on much better footing than ever before, and its present leaders are mostly men of standing and good character. He does not at all sympathize with the Dent movement, and thinks its success will only throw the State in the hands of the class which ruled before and during the war."

DEMOCRATIC dissatisfaction with the nomination of ROSECRANS is deep and strong in Ohio. The secret councils of the party are said to be vent with the bitterest disputes, one side demanding his withdrawal, and the other equally resolute to force down the Democratic throats a man who has for years denounced them as "traitors and scoundrels." Senator THURMAN goes to California at once, to see ROSECRANS and "fix things up." His labors might be more wisely directed at home. A Columbus dispatch says:

> "Mayor Buhrer, of Cleveland, the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, who worked for Ranney at the Convention, was in the city yesterday, and in referring to the nominations said he had not sought the nomination for Treasurer, and was sorry it was thrust upon him, for the following reasons: First, it would cost him a thousand dollars; second, after careful survey of the ground, he was fully convinced that he had no chance of an election; that with some other man than Rosecrans at the head of the ticket the result would have been different; that Rosecrans would not poll the Democratic vote, and would not attract the Republican vote."

◆

ONE WEEK AGO this morning, the Pittsburgh Post, speaking of the Democratic Convention of the ensuing Wednesday, complained that the "blundering old fossils of the party" who disgraced the State at New York, were "again at work trying to swamp" the Democracy at Harrisburg. Will our neighbor graciously inform us whether the "blundering old fossils" did or did not succeed, and, in either case, how and why? Was the defeat of CASS a piece of "swamping" business done by the old fossils, or was the nomination of PACKER due to the fact that "a more youthful and clear-headed influence ruled the hour." Either the old "fossils" did or did not accomplish anything; we implore our neighbor to tell us which. Also, whether the clear-headed youthful Democracy went for PACKER or CASS. Also, where the old "fossils" hail from at present, and whether they are flat on their backs or crow from the top of the heap. In short, will our neighbor inform us to which wing of its party the prize has fallen. An early reply is desired.

ORGANIZE—WORK!

The campaign has opened in Pennsylvania. The two great political parties who so often have met in conflict before are again arrayed against each other, and, under leaders of acknowledged strength and power, are marshaling for the great struggle of supremacy at the ballot box. While we have never felt more sanguine of a contest resulting in a Republican triumph, still it is eminently unwise that we should build upon our own strength and with arms folded calmly await victory, making no effort to secure it beyond a doubt. The enemy has been whipped unmercifully time and time again, but each political castigation at the polls only made them more eager and more determined to triumph, and up they come in each canvass as solid and resolute as though they had never felt the shock of a reverse. Possibly, the Democratic party is to-day as well organized and as well prepared for the struggle as they ever were, and will conduct the canvass with a wicked energy born from the fresh recollections of the many disasters and defeats they have of late suffered. On their part victory is esteemed so highly and as a result so desirable that nothing honest or dishonest will remain undone to help on their cause. It is in knowing this that the Republicans should at once prepare to meet and repel them step by step. With a large majority in our favor, a guarantee that the ballot-box is shielded by just and wise legal provisions against those frauds and outrages which have been a source of strength to the enemy, leaders who inspire confidence and are especially worthy the suffrages of all honest men, and with a platform broad, liberal and patriotic, there can be no possible doubt of our success if we at once organize for the work—for with all these grand advantages, work, earnest, harmonious and well directed work must be done to secure our triumph. Organization is needed. None will deny the great importance of doing work in concert, by clubs and associations. Let every ward, borough and district of the State have their Geary and Williams clubs in the field early, and thus infuse life and enthusiasm into the campaign. One good Republican club of earnest and determined workers will be as effective in each district as an hundred thousand dollars of the greenbacks promised to be expended by the Democratic Croesus, who proposes to buy his way through to the chief office of honor in the Commonwealth. Let us have clubs at once organized, and thus early set the ball rolling, and keep it in motion till we have again secured an old fashioned triumph.

WHO SHALL TESTIFY?

The recent introduction of two hundred thousand Chinese into the population of the Pacific slope, probably to be soon followed by a vast augmentation and diffusion of that element, has given rise to a fresh problem, which is, shall these Asiatics be allowed to testify in courts of justice? and, if so, under what sanctions? Whoever shall take the pains to examine this question in detail, and so thoroughly as to get down into its inherent nature, will find that it is only a ramification of the very old and almost universal one, which is that of Religious Liberty. These Chinese are disbelievers in the Christian Religion; have a distinct and peculiar theological system of their own, which imposes responsibilities and enforces sanctions. The real question, therefore, is, whether, denying the authenticity of revealed religion, as popularly accepted in this country, they are competent to give evidence in causes pending at the tribunals of public justice.

It has come to be understood that the acceptance of a creed, no matter how good and venerable, does not make a man a saint. Some men who make large orthodox professions, are scarcely entitled to be believed under oath, while others, adhering to most hetrodox formularies of faith, exhibit a transparent rectitude which cannot be surpassed. Conversing some years ago with a Boston friend, a Congregationalist of the intensest orthodox type, and who was bitterly lamenting the influence of the late THEODORE PARKER, we asked him what was the worst thing in the character and conduct of that personage. Stopping for a moment he replied with emphasis, "The beautiful life he leads." The defects of his creed, in the estimation of our friend, seemed to be obscured, even if they did not acquire a lustre, from the grace and charm of his daily life. The illustration is susceptible of wide and various applications, which we cannot stop to make.

In the former pro-slavery times, in all the Southern States, and in some of the Northern ones besides, black people were not allowed to give testimony against whites. Under this rule, any white scamp could commit murder, rape, arson, robbery, or any other crime upon the person or property of any black man or woman, and be perfectly safe from punishment, provided he had so taken his measures as to exclude the actual or inferential cognizance of white individuals. This was a revolting type of democracy ten years ago. This monstrous exclusion of the blacks did not have its roots in religious differences, but in diversities of social status. So far as the whites and blacks, involved in this matter, had any religion, it was of the same general stamp. If they adhered to any scheme of faith, it was the Christian. Nor was any attempt made to conceal the real grounds on which the testimony of the blacks was excluded. Nay, their assumed inferiority was paraded as the only reason on which it could be justified.

In California the Chinese are rigidly excluded from the witness stand. In Idaho they are sworn according to the solemnities used in their own country. At Silver City, in that Territory, two Chinese were lately tried for the murder of another. In swearing the Chinese witnesses, a rooster's head was hacked off with a knife, a saucer broken, the oath written on yellow paper, burned, and the smoke, in which the spirit of the oath was supposed to be, blown up to heaven in each case.

To professed or nominal Christians, this ceremonial appears absurd; but the true question is, whether it does not serve as effectually to elicit truth from the Chinese as other forms do from other people? The accumulation of celestials in this country may have a strong tendency towards securing the abrogation of all oaths, in legal proceedings, and the rendering of all persons, interested in the particular case or not, competent to state to the court and jury all they know, subject to any abatements their lack of credibility may suggest or compel.

Whoever has had much to do with the administration of oaths in legal matters, is impressed with the consciousness that the proceeding is commonly irreverent and trifling. Custom-house oaths are proverbially false. Many other sorts are no better. Indeed, magistrates and lawyers know how hard it frequently is to wring the truth out of men whose lips have just kissed the evangelist's in adjuration. It may well be doubted whether oaths are of any benefit at all. If a man is honest, he will tell the truth as he perceives it, and if he is dishonest, no ceremony or incantation will get it out of him.

We know it is urged that if a witness swears falsely he is liable to punishment for perjury. But this plea has no weight. Why create a fictitious offense, in order to punish untruthfulness? Why not enact instead that every witness who tells a lie on the stand, or fails to tell the whole truth, as he holds it, shall be punished for the falsehood? So far as this method exerted any influence, one way or the other, it would be on the side of veracity. Lying would become as odious as perjury is now, to all who scruple at the latter, but make no account of the former. The idea that a special form makes a difference in the obligation to respect the claims of Truth, is every way pernicious.

With the inflow of the Chinese this question will assume such importance as to lead to its full and fresh consideration, and the end can hardly fail to be the entire abrogation of the swearing process.

Immigration.

During the thirteen years from 1856 to 1868 inclusive, there have arrived in the United States 2,938,296 persons, of whom 372,652 were natives of the country, and 2,565,644 were aliens, or persons of foreign birth. Classing them by nationalities, we find there have arrived during that period of

ERIE, PA.

Beaver Falls—E. and P. Railroad—Erie Improvements, Water Works, etc.—The Bay—Smelting Furnace—Society Pittsburghers, &c.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ERIE, July 16, 1869.

The journey from Pittsburgh to Erie is something quite different now from what it was in former days, when turnpikes or canals were the only ways by which to come. Now seven hours in a pleasant coach, over a smooth and agreeably conducted road, and through rich and beautiful scenery, is all that is required to take one from smoky Pittsburgh to airy, dusty, pleasant Erie. In coming up last Saturday I concluded that it would be hard to think of any improvement in the present management of the road, which seems to be in a flourishing condition. The first noteworthy stopping place is Beaver Falls, almost as wonderful a grower as Jack's bean stalk in the fairy story, or the magic cities of the far west. Several things have combined to make Beaver Falls what it is: first, the cutlery and other establishments need many artisans, and homes for them and their families were necessary; then naturally the scenery is enticing, and the neighborhood healthy; and finally, the town authorities and the large land owners offer large inducements to settlers. The consequence is, that new and tasteful dwellings are very rapidly multiplying, and the whole valley seems overhung with an atmosphere of prosperity.

Speeding on through the Beaver and Shenango valleys, I noticed that the crops looked fine and the iron business seemed dull, as several furnaces were lying idle. At Jamestown—called Jimtown to distinguish it from the larger place of the same name, in New York—the railway restaurant provided a plain, well cooked dinner, at a moderate price, accompanied by those great luxuries, clean table-cloths and napkins. A party of grand jurymen were on the train and I recognized among the number Hon. Geo. V. Lawrence, large and handsome as ever, and Mr. Rutan, the Beaver county nominee for Senator. The rest of the gentlemen seemed to be enjoying some joke at the expense of Mr. R., and I frequently heard such words as McCracken, Quay, dollars, etc., which gave me an inkling of what was the nature of the joke.

Erie is one of the most living looking towns I have seen. There seems to be plenty of activity and public spirit throughout. Since last year there has been much change: several of the streets have been Nicolsonized and several are now undergoing the preparatory operations for similar treatment. Many handsome private houses have been built, the elegant water works—including the largest stand pipe in the world—have been finished and put in operation, and the two pretty little parks have been improved by two really elegant fountains. These fountains are made of iron, painted white, and the water coming through iron pipes has sadly discolored them, although they have been up but a few months, a fact which leads me to hope that the Allegheny Park Commission will have their iron fountains bronzed instead of white. The trees throughout this beautiful city are superb, many of the broad streets being completely overshadowed by them, and the parks are always cool and shady, facts which, together with the invigorating lake breeze, seem to be thoroughly enjoyed by the numerous Pittsburgers, to whom they are rarities.

Charming Presque Isle bay never looked more lovely than it did on Saturday night, when the sun was dropping into the water behind the trees of the island forest which separates the bay from the lake. The bay was one mass of white capped waves, which were tinged with all the prismatic colors while reflecting the long miles of the forest island. On some of the water lots some gentlemen are building a blast furnace, and before long Erie will be competing with the iron smelters of the Mahoning and Shenango regions. They can get their coal by way of the Beaver canal without changing bulk; while their iron ore can be put on board ship on Lake Superior and brought at once to the furnace here, as it could be brought to Pittsburgh, if that long talked of ship canal were built.

The Court met on Monday and bids fair to last longer than usual. There are not so many familiar Pittsburgh faces here as there were last year. The Judge and Mr. Stephen McCandless of course are here, and are, in spite of the extraordinary amount of work they have been doing, looking well. A traveled gentleman remarked to me that Judge McCandless looked quite as imposing on the bench as any of the be-wigged gentlemen on the English wool sack. Mr. W. F. Robb, Gen. T. B. Swearengen, Geo. I. Whitney, Jno. A. Wilson, Mr. Harry Marker and Mr. Mellor, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Richey, of Allegheny, are members of the traverse jury.

Socially, Erie is very gay just now, and the Pittsburghers seem to be enjoying it. On Monday night there was a large, delightful party at the house of Mr. William L. Scott, the efficient President of the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad. On Tuesday a brilliant and pleasant reception took place at the house of Dr. Brandes, one of the leading physicians here. Invitations are out for a party at General Charles Reed's on Thursday, and one or two others are on the tapis, including one on board the U. S cutter Michigan by her officers. Altogether, the young Pittsburgers here will be able to have as much gaiety as they would well desire. Miss Maggie McCandless seems to be the only Pittsburgh lady here, but that the ladies of Pittsburgh are well represented it is unnecessary to state.

Dr. Strong, a prominent citizen and physician, died here last night, after a long and painful illness, and will be buried to morrow.

St. Paul's Episcopal church has paid its debt and gotten the Sheriff's notice off its beautiful doors, and will be consecrated by Bishop Kerfoot on the 29th instant.

Farmers say that the crops, in spite of rain and wind, are very fine and large, and but little of the wheat has been injured by rust. W.

The Trouble with Irish Laborers at Poughkeepsie.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

POUGHKEEPSIE, July 17.—Intelligence from Pleasant Valley, up to eleven o'clock last evening, is to the effect that the laborers were about with clubs and pick handles, and lying around on the slopes along the roads and in fields. Squire McCord urged them to keep peace. His suggestions were received with groans and yells. One company of thirty men is under arms at the Valley, and another left this morning. A barn in which is located the property wanted by the Sheriff contains two kegs of powder, placed there by the laborers, who have laid trains from it. The people of the village are terrified for fear of bloody scenes. As yet the laborers have molested no one. They are well organized.

Sheriff Kennedy, backed by two companies of military, to day arrested Jack M'Donald and John Short, the ringleaders of the Pleasant Valley disturbances, and also seized the horse and wagon formerly owned by Welch, the absconding contractor. There was no resistance, but the laborers were out in force, shouting derisively and tauntingly at the military. To-night everything at Pleasant Valley is quiet. Many of the villagers have been sworn in as deputy Sheriffs. Next Tuesday the laborers will be paid off, at which time it is apprehended there will be further trouble.

Adroit Forgery by a Clergyman.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 18.—A bold and successful forgery, perpetrated by Rev. Mr. Mitchell, Methodist clergyman at Chittenango, Madison county, has been discovered. He forged the name of Robert Stewart, President of the National Bank of Chittenango, to a draft for five thousand dollars, payable to the order of Rev. Mr. Greenleaf, Methodist minister at Lee Center. Mitchell and Greenleaf look alike and the former deceived Mr. Carlton of New York, publisher, into identifying him as Greenleaf, to whose order the draft was payable at the Fourth National bank of New York. Mitchell got the money and invested it in Government securities. His resemblance to Greenleaf led to his detection. He has restored $4,600 and effected his escape.

IT IS a remarkable fact in the history of the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad that, considering the number of years it has been in operation, Mr. Sanford, the conductor lately killed, was the first one to die of injuries received upon it.

TRUSSES AND HERNIA.

The sad and deplorable condition of many who are afflicted with hernia or rupture of the bowels, calls loudly for some efficient and unmistakable remedy that will not only in every case give efficient relief, but in many cases effect a radical and thorough cure. These cases of hernia have become so frequent that it is computed that one-sixth of the male population are said to be troubled, in some way or another, with this terrible ailment; and in very many cases do not know where to apply for an appropriate remedy, oftentimes not knowing whether an appliance is really needed or not; and if it should be needed, they often do not know where or to whom they should make application. The world is full of trusses for the retention and cure of this lamentable evil, oftentimes an incontestible proof of their total and inadequate fitness to relieve the sufferer. This need not be; DR. KEYSER, at his new medicine store, No. 167 Liberty street, is abundantly supplied with every appliance needful to the retention end relief of this terrible affliction, so that every one can be properly fitted, at a moderate cost, with the full assurance that the appliance is the best that the mechanical department of surgery can afford. The Doctor has pursued the investigation of hernia with more than ordinary care for over thirty years, so that the afflicted can place implicit reliance in his skill and integrity, with the full assurance that they will not only get the best truss suitable to the case, but likewise a thorough and efficient knowledge of its proper application.

There are many persons who not only sacrifice their health, but even their lives, for want of a proper truss, or a truss properly applied. Strangulated and irreducable rupture is a far more common ailment now than in former years; and may we not justly arrive at the conclusion that its frequency is often occasioned by the neglect and carelessness of the sufferers themselves. No one would be regarded as sane or excusable who would go for a whole winter without the proper clothing to shield them from the inclement weather, but, at the same time, it is thought a light affair to suffer with a protrusion such as rupture that not only subjects the person to inconvenience, but even places life itself in jeopardy. Those of our readers who may be so unfortunate as to need appliances of this kind cannot act more wisely than to cut this advertisement and preserve it, so as to enable them to remember the place where such important preservers of life and health are to be procured.

SUMMER PERILS—HOW TO ESCAPE.

It will not do to trifle with the health in hot weather. Vigor oozes through the skin at every pore, and it is by physical vigor only that unhealthy influences can be baffled and repelled. The vital elements are evaporated in perspiration. Intense heat converts a man into a self-acting pump, and the moisture that is pumped out of him is derived from the well-springs of life within him. There is great need therefore, that these sources of physical strength should be in a condition to bear, without danger or inconvenience, the extraordinary drain. If they are not in such a condition, the individual becomes languid and low-spirited.

The main thing is to keep the digestive apparatus in good working trim; for if the stomach, the purveyor of the system, does its duty thoroughly, the liver, the bowels, the brain, and the nervous system, being duly matured, will be likely to do theirs. In view of these facts, it is manifest that a powerful and wholesome vegetable tonic like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is especially required at this enfeebling season. It is the most admirable of all correctives and invigorants, and for this reason: it does not over-stimulate the system. The proportions of apperient, tonic and stimulating components are so judiciously graduated, that the process of invigoration and purification go on simultaneously, and no undue excitement is created in the circulation or the brain. All unmedicated stimulants, however pure, excite the pulse and the nervous system. Their exhilarating effect is temporary, and when it passes off the physical and mental depression they were employed to remove returns in an aggravated form. But this is not the case when HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are taken as a stomachic and nervine. The medical herbs, roots and gums with which they are impregnated, neutralize the exciting principle of the rye spirit which forms their basis, and which is in itself the most wholesome of all the varieties of alcohol.

FINANCE AND TRADE,

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, July 17, 1869.

The tendency of the gold market during the last two days of the week was decidedly downward, not only from natural causes, but also by artificial means, resorted to by cliques. The reduction in the rate of interest below 3 per cent. per annum by the bank of Englaed gave the first impulse to the decline, aided by a desire of a large lot of holders of gold at high prices and by parties who had borrowed gold and sold it in order to get currency when money commanded ¾ per cent. per day. The highest quotation during the week was 137⅞ and the lowest was 135¼, from which the market rallied to 135⅞@136. The tendency for the next month being upward, sales at the declie have been light, and judging from this it is more than probable that a short upward turn will be followed in the course of the week by a reaction, probably below the lowest point reached on Saturday. The unfavorable weather for harvesting the grain and hay crop may stimulate the upward movement of gold, as exports will be light on account of high prices here, and favorable crops of Europe will preclude the early purchases by England before the present stock is exhausted.

Government bonds, which rapidly fluctuated, for new bonds, for the past week from 117¾ to 120⅝, were not quite up to the highest point, but had improved on better London quotations. The present high price, and the fact that the advanced figures were not sustained, ha brought out a number of sellers, and it seems as if the supply on the market would be adequate for the balance of the government purchases during the month. The uneasy feeling in European politics is not favorable to a further rise of our bonds there, especially should gold materially advance beyond present quotations, which there is every prospect.

Stocks were dull, as usual on Saturday, except the New York roads, which are cliqued. Although values on the stock exchange are considered entirely too high at present for safe investment, yet it is not likely that any large decline can take place under an easy money market, and a strict enforcement of the usury laws.

Money in our local market is not so abundant, but sufficient to meet the present small demand for legitimate business, which is exceedingly dull.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE
SATURDAY, July 17, 1869.

Business, generally, has been ve quiet during the past week, and it not likely that there will be any imn diate improvement. Indeed, busin is always dull at this particular seas of the year, as farmars are busily gaged in securing their crops, and wi out the aid of the country people bu ness does not amount to much in t city, as the demand for everything confined entirely to supplying imme ate wants.

The crops and crop prospects, pres and future, is all the absorbing th of discussion in commercial circles, upon the result of the harvets hangs future course of business in the coun at large. With good crops, safely cured, the future is bright and full encouragement; while in case of failu the reverse would be the case. T the season has been backward, and crops in many localities, badly inju by the continued wet weather, is a tled fact; but that there will be an av age, and probably more than an avera yield of wheat, is generally conceded.

The "bull" movement in Chicago but few sympathizers aside from th who are interested, and cannot be ta as a criterion of the market. Wh is relatively higher there than it is any other market in the country, a to-day there is no margin between C cago and New York, or any other po

This, of itself, is sufficient evide that the upward movement there is ligitimate, but is owing mainly to manipulations of speculators, who carrying large stocks, and are bring every influence to bear to keep pri up until they can unload.

BRUNSWICK, ME.

orrespondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BRUNSWICK, ME., July 14, 1869.

This place is all a stir to-day, all is ustle and activity. Tickets to the church, iving one an entrance to church before procession, are eagerly sought Only limited number are issued. Hundreds tand waiting at the church door till the rocession has entered, when every eat and isle is filled.

The procession under the charge of marshal, proceeded by Gilmore's famous and, forms at the chapel. The Presi-ent has his flowing silk robe, such of the raduates as choose to wear gowns do so. f the commencement exercises I will not peak this evening. A word on the mili-ary display and grounds.

These two points in the commencement f the Western University were kindly riticized by one of the religious papers —military display and gowns worn by he students, are a matter of taste. A erson who may never have seen a mar-hal on such an occasion, may think it dd, but we do not see how he possibly an regard it otherwise than eminently roper, and essential to the order of the ccasion, I certainly hope the esteemed ditor will not object to our most worthy Professor of Military Science, detailed to s in accordance with an act of Congress, ccupying a seat with the Faculty. Now we have never known a commencment f a college without its procession and Marshal. We have been honored in ormer years by such gentlemen as Gens. Negley and Sweitzer, and on this occa-ion we don't possibly see how we could ave made a better choice—could have se-ected one who would have appeared or one better. We notice that still at Harvard; as in years passing the memory f man, the National Lancer's escort the Governor and Staff from Boston to Cam-ridge, and then the procession is formed with a Marshal of experience, which pro-eeds in due form to the church. This, oo, is in old Harvard, what they are not enerally suspected of, a too rigid adhe-ence to monastic forms or middle-age eremonies, but where the mind is so free o think, that every form of heresy is upposed to originate thus. The gowns we have been accustomed to see in most f our best colleges all our lives, there-ore they did not strike us as "ludicrous." They are not so regarded in Harvard and New York. At the recent commencement of the University of New York, Chancellor Ferris wore a purple velvet Oxford cape, and the Faculty all wore robes. The Faculty of the Western University represent ten different institutions in this and other countries and they unanimously and heartily approve of the rules for students and would have adopted them some time since for themselves had not the expense prevented. This objection we hope will be obviated hereafter, and our Rev. friend will have an opportunity to see a more ridiculous sight—a graduating class and the Faculty all in robes. A few years ago it was considered "ludicrous" and sinful to surmount the spire of a Protestant church with a cross, now it is not. So was it regarded to preach from notes or to have an organ in a Pr [redacted] our well-to-do or wealthy classes who contribute so largely to the support of the Government, we now descend to the other end of the scale and present the names of the Poor Men of New York who don't pay any taxes at all.

The publication of income lists not only furnishes food for the curious, but it disabuses the public mind about the incomes of functionaries in and about the City Hall. It has heretofore been the popular belief that the poorest member of the Board of Aldermen made at least $50,000 per annum from his position, through street contracts held by relatives, and other little "jobs" well known to our citizens who suffer by them. The income list completely explodes this idea, and vindicates the purity of our City Government. We notice that our Coroners, though they hold many 'quests, don't make any money, which we very much regret, as their official duties must be exceedingly unpleasant. But we must be permitted to express our surprise at the fact of their small fees, as an ex-Coroner in whom we have much confidence makes the grim statement that the custom heretofore has been (and New York City officials are apt to improve upon money-getting customs) that when Coroner No. 1 finds a body in the river he holds a 'quest upon it, and sends it along to No. 2, and so it goes on through the whole list of Coroners. When finally "sat upon" it must be, as Mr. Mantilini would express it, "a demnition damp, disagreeable body." Since we have published the names of nearly forty thousand citizens of New York and vicinity who have each returned a taxable income for the year 1868, it seems no more than fair and just to name next a few of the poor fellows who had no income to return for that year.

We have a gentleman living up town in a splendid Fifth avenue house, who has never returned a dollar of taxable income. He swears that he pays $5,000 rent for his house; that he is worth one and one quarter million dollars, mostly in real estate; that he received last year $9,000 from rents, and paid about $7,000 for taxes and $5,000 interest on mortgages; that it costs him about $30,000 per annum to live, and that he obtains the necessary funds by the occasional sale of a lot of ground, all of which he owned previous to the passage of the Income Tax law. He avers that he does not believe the Income law to be constitutional, and would therefore justify anybody in swearing to anything to escape its provisions. He is a red-hot Democrat, yet a gentleman in appearance. In the affidavit line he can beat a Tammany Hall canvasser of elections and give him odds. To the Assessor he is exceedingly suave, and answers questions, however prying, with a readiness that completely throws his questioner off his guard. He never allows his temper to become ruffled, except when he spurns with honest indignation the slightest insinuation against his patriotism. These bursts are generally followed by a melancholy shaking of the head as, with down-cast and sorrowful eyes, he deplores in broken voice the sad state of his beloved country. Recovering from the effect of his overwrought feelings, he takes up the pen and dashes off a bold signature to the affidavit, in which he swears he is too poor to pay to his "beloved country" any income tax. He is as polite as a dancing master; as wordy as the dictionary, and in figuring down his income to "nothing taxable" can distance the Arithmetic Man of The World in his happiest flights at evolving Democratic victories out of figures which to the common mind represent Democratic disaster.

Further up town we find one of the City Fathers of Aldermanic Boole-ring fame. In 1862, when he was first elected Alderman of the —— ward, he was worth about $6,000. To day the records of the Register's office show that he holds not less than $800,000 worth of solid real estate in this city; yet he has never returned in any one year since the Income law took effect more than $600 taxable income. Poor fellow! to have the care of so much property and receive so little benefit from it!

Then we have an ex-Mayor, who is reputed to be the unfortunate owner of more than one million dollars worth of real estate, some of which is leased to the city at exceedingly remunerative prices. But the poor man never profits by it, for he has never had a single dollar of taxable income.

In an up-town mansion lives one of our Supervisors, who formerly resided in the Tenth ward, but came originally from "north of the Tweed," as may be seen by the coat-of-arms engraved upon certain silver-ware presented by the American Club. In 1860 he could hardly pay the rent of the very plain house in which he lived. Since then he has been engaged in the business of running the Tammany Hall Machine, together with the offices of Senator, Supervisor, Deputy Street Commissioner, and other pleasant positions too numerous to mention. According to the returns which he has made to the Assessor since 1862, he is in point of income still a very poor man. It is currently reported, indeed, that within the past year he has purchased over $800,000 worth of real estate, and he has the reputation ef being a millionaire. But with all this property, the unfortunate owner had no taxable income for the past year.

A gentleman living in Forty-ninth street, reputed to be worth half a million in real estate and living in a house worth $60,000, has not been able to pay any income tax during the past two years. Since 1862 no class of men are supposed to have been more generally successful than builders and speculators in real estate, yet many of the most prominent ot these return no income, which proves, of course, that the inquisitive public greatly overestimate the wealth and profits of their neighbors.—New York Tribune.

Washington Items.

The District Attorney and the Marshal of New York have severally been instructed at any and all hazards to enforce the neutrality laws, and to break up expeditions against Cuba. For this purpose they have been empowered by a commission from the President, under the great seal, to call upon General McDowell for such troops as they may require, and upon the Admiral in command of the Navy Yard for such vessels and forces as they may deem necessary to prevent the departure of any hostile expedition, and they are also directed to pursue any such expedition and capture it on the high seas, if necessary. Gen. McDowell and the Admiral have each received orders to respond to any call that may be made upon them in pursuance of the powers so conferred.

It is well understood here that the friends of Chase were much exercised over the idea of Gen. Hancock receiving the Democratic nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania. For weeks the Chase men and Gov. Hoffman's friends have been straining every nerve to prevent Hancock's candidacy. They feared it might make the General too formidable a rival for the next Presidency. The Chase party avow that they would rather see Geary elected than Hancock put in the field. The nomination of Packer insures a Republiean victory. Hoffman is believed to be willing to take the second place on the Chase programme for 1872.

It has transpired that the Democracy of Virginia are developing a movement to secure the election of the Hon. Gilbert C. Walker, Governor elect, as United States Senator from that State. This motive is to secure the control of local affairs by displacing Walker from the Governorship, because they fear that he will oppose their political as well as railroad schemes, and because they imagine they can more easily manage Lieutenant Governor Lewis. In short, they being to find that they have caught a Tarter in the election of Governor Walker, and propose to remove him from his position of direct influence over the affairs of the State. They will probably elect him to the long term.

More than ten days ago the Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier, "Leo." wrote from this city as follows:

I learn that Chief Justice Chase has been approached by some of the first lawyers and jurists in the South, with entire regard for his position and deference to his views, on the subject of the continuation of martial law and military commissions in the South, Judge Chase, as I learn, had no hesitation in saying that in the case of Yerger, in Mississippi, he should, if he were convicted by military tribunal, grant a writ of habeas corpus upon application for it. This course would remit the accused to the proper organized civil tribunal.

Unsectarian Schools.

We do not wish to believe that the Catholic religion is to put itself into antagonism to education, yet the following from the Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph would seem to indicate as much:

It will be a glorious day for Catholics in this country when, under the blows of justice and morality, our school system will be shivered to pieces; until then modern Paganism will triumph.

Of this the Cleveland Herald says:

We have no desire to have a religious element enter into the State canvass, but in view of such sentiments uttered by the reputed organ of a Roman Catholic bishop in this State, and of the relations by blood and religion existing between that bishop and the Democratic nominee for Governor, we do not well see how it can be avoided. We shall stand by our school system against all assaults, from whatever quarter they may come.

A DEBATING society had under consideration the question, "Is it wrong to cheat a lawyer?" The decision arrived at was, "No, but impossible."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The GAZETTE is furnished in the city the six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2.

Police circles were unusually quiet on Saturday.

The Corporators of Allegheny Cemetery held their annual meeting Saturday. No business of public importance was transacted.

The Heavy Rains of yesterday lessened the labors of the street cleaners considerably. Some of the streets needed attention of this kind badly enough.

The Allegheny watch house contained but six inmates yesterday morning, and was not reinforced throughout the day. The morals of our sister city are improving.

In the City.—Edward P. McCullough, Esq., of St. Paul, Minnesota, late of Pittsburgh, is in the city on a brief visit to his many friends and acquaintances hereabouts.

Another Trial.—A second trial of Irving's patent car brake will take place this morning at ten o'clock, in front of the office of the Citizens Passenger Railway, and at the same place at four o'clock this afternoon.

Common Cases.—The Sunday morning congregation to whow Mayor Brush ministered, yesterday, numbered thirty persons. Many of them contributed largely when application was made to them, while others went into temporary retirement.

What with the market people, the side shows, the hand organs, the patent soap, glue, pen and medicine men, the electric machine, and sundry other sensations, the Allegheny Diamond was the scene of an unusual amount of excitement on Saturday evening.

Meeting To-Night.—To-night a meeting of citizens irrespective of nationality will be held in Turner Hall, Sixth avenue, to make arrangements for the Humboldt centenial celebration. The object is certainly a meritorious one, and we hope there will be a very large attendance.

The Business Intelligencer—a neat and spicy journal, published twice a month, in Birmingham, by Mr. H. J. Hartzell—is certainly a credit to the southside. It should be fully appreciated and largely patronized by those desiring a good advertising medium in the new city that is to be.

Taken Home.—Saturday afternoon, Stewart Sampson, convicted of felonious assault, and sentenced to two years, and and John Law, convicted of larceny, and sentenced to one year and six months' imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary, were taken over to that institution by Sheriff Cluley.

Poisoned.—On Saturday morning last a little daughter of a gentleman residing in East Birmingham drank a portion of concentrated lye which she found in a glass. Dr. Kerr was immediately called in, who rendered all the aid in his power, but not much hope is felt for her recovery, as the injuries are supposed to be of a fatal nature.

Teachers Elected.—The following teachers have been elected for the Seventh Ward School, Allegheny city: Principals—Samuel Campbell, Milton Jones and H. W. Gross. Teacher of German, F. Jahn; Intermediate, Mary E. McClelland; Primary, Mattie J. Brown, E. J. Henderson, and M. Elphinstone. There remains one Assistant Principal and one Primary yet to elect.

One to Three.—A man named Daniel Corcoran was before the Mayor yesterday morning, charged with lively and vigorous disorderly conduct. He was disporting himself on Penn street, in the vicinity of the "Little Market House," when his path was crossed by three men. These men, it is alleged, Daniel knocked down in quick and bewildering succession. For this he was arrested and paid a fine.

Grand I. O. O. F. Pic Nic.—On Wednesday next, at Faulk's Grove, Allegheny Lodge No. 29, I. O. of O. F., will hold their first annual picnic. Arrangements on a most liberal scale have been made to secure the enjoyment of all who attend. Excellent music, good dancing platforms and the best of order may be anticipated. We trust there may be a large attendance of brothers of the order and citizens generally.

Base Ball.—The Baltic Base Ball Club of Wheeling will play the "Atlantics" of this city at Union Park, Allegheny, next Saturday afternoon. This is the second of a series of games between the clubs, the first of which was won by the "Baltics." Since then the "Atlantics" have added several new members to their nine, including their old pitcher, Brosie, who is considered one of the best in the business, by which they expect to reverse the score.

A correspondent writing from Urbana, Ohio, describes the town as a beautiful one, and says that in the Exchange Hotel it has one of the best and most homelike place of rest for the traveler to be found in the United States. Mr. D. W. Sowles, the host and proprietor, is a gentleman who eminently knows how to keep a hotel, and has the knack of caring for his guests in an admirable manner. Let none of our readers visit Urbana without favoring him with a call.

Soldiers' Home.—The following is the monthly report of the Pittsburgh Sanitary Soldiers' Home and Citizens' Hospital, for June, 1869: Number of inmates in the Home, June 1, seventy-seven; number admitted during the month, thirty-seven; number of deaths during the month, none; number remaining in the Home, July 1, seventy-two; number remaining in the Home, July 1, 1868, sixty-nine; citizens admitted, four; discharged, two; remaining, two.

Missing.—Thursday afternoon of last week Mr. Hammond Brocksmith left his residence at the corner of Wylie and Fulton street for Eliza furnace, on the Connellsville railroad, a short distance above the city. Since then nothing has been heard of him. He was about twenty-six years of age, was of medium hight, light blue eyes, light hair, and wore a blue coat, black pants and hat. His friends are very anxious, and would gratefully receive any information concerning him.

A Virgin Alley Row.—Nora Wisely appeared before Alderman McMasters, Saturday, and stated that the evening previous Wm. H. Evans, at a late hour, had stopped at her residence on Virgin alley and demanded admittance. When refused, she alleges he broke in the door, drew a revolver and threatened to blow her brains out, and swore that he would never rest satisfied until he had taken her life. The Alderman, after hearing Nora's statement, issued a warrant, upon which Evans was arrested and compelled to give bail for a hearing on a charge of felonious assault.

Teachers Elected.—The School Board of Union borough have elected the following teachers for their schools: Mr. Joseph Linhart, Mr. George D. Hunt, Miss Lucy McNeal.

A Good Pen.—Messrs Kay and Co. booksellers and stationers, No. 65 Wood street, have presented us with a new gum pen, an invention intended for rapid writing. It is gold, and diamond pointed, thus securing all the advantages of an entirely gold pen, while it is cased with gutta percha to the tip. It is the best pen for rapid and legible writing we have ever used, and will commend itself to lawyers, clergymen and others having manuscript to prepare.

Personal.—We had the pleasure yesterday of receiving a call from Mr. John C. Nial, of Buffalo, New York, who is stopping at the St. Charles Hotel. Mr. Nial represents the extensive and deservedly popular drug firm of Messrs, Seward, Beatley and Cheney, No. 241 and 243 Main street, who are proprietors of the following celebrated preparations, Alisma, for the hair, Sewards Cough Cure, Constitution Bitters, Wormwood Liniment, and a large number of trade known flavoring extracts.

Attempted Robbery.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock, a couple of villainous looking rascals were observed entering the residence of Mr. James Marshall, Stockton avenue, Allegheny. The family were absent, but the neighbors gave the alarm, and the house was quickly surrounded by the police and a number of citizens. A thorough search of the premises was then made, but the chaps had mysteriously disappeared and could not be found. There was nothing carried off.

New Boat Club.

A new boat club, named in honor of Mr. John W. Pittock, has been organized within the last few days in the city, with the following officers: President, B. F. Parkinson; Vice President, James Williams; Secretary, B. F. Ralston; Treasurer, W. H. McClearv; Superintendent, Joseph A. Schott; Directors, David Wilson, James Boyd, Jamuel Ellison, Joseph Hayes, Jr., and James Irwin. They have secured the boat house formerly occupied by the "Dryden," and have anchored it with their boat at the foot of Walnut street in the Allegheny river.

Foul Murder.

From Mr. R. A. Wilson, of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Coke and Coal Company, we learn the particulars of an awful murder committed last Wednesday morning at Springfield, Ohio. A Mrs. Ormsbee, a widow residing in that city alone with her mother and children, arose at half-past four o'clock in the morning, and found at her window a man preparing to make his way into the house. She cried out for her mother, when the villain shot her dead. The son of the murdered woman saw the assassin retreat, but was unable to furnish any definite description which may lead to his arrest.

Pittsburgh in 1795.

We have received from Mr. A. G. Haumann, the well-known Civil and Mining Engineer and Geologist, No. 130 Smithfield street, a fine photograph taken by Webber, the Sixth street artist, of a map of Pittsburgh in 1795. As a historical memento of what our city was three quarters of a century ago, this is an invaluable, work, and should find its way into every public and private library and office in the city. A key of places and localities, a sketch of Fort Pitt and the famous brick redoubt, built in 1764, are all on the margin of the map. Copies can be obtained of Mr. A. G. Haumann, and we advise all interested in the early history of our great city to possess one.

Another Cutting.

A serious cutting affair occured on Saturday near midnight, in the neighborhood of the Mansion House, and resulted in the severe wounding of a man named Wm. Robinson, foreman of the Keystone Bridge Company. Robinson states that he was passing along the street and saw a man sitting on a cellar door, apparently in a drunken sleep. He shook the sleeping man and told him to get up or the police would have him in the lockup. Thereupon the man sprang up and attacked Robinson with a knife, inflicting a severe wound in the thigh, near the groin, and one or two other slight wounds. He then turned and ran away. Mr. Robinson describes his assailant as being dressed in light clothes, and thinks he would be able to identify him. The injured man was then taken home and properly cared for.

Kept the Money.

A few evenings since Wm. R. Jones and a convivial companion, Charles S. Black, were out on a pleasure excursion through the city, during which they called at several houses of entertainment and were supplied with spirits which were not long in having an influence on the spirits of Jones. His companion, at this manifestation of weakness in his friend, thought it unsafe to allow him to control his pocket-book, and to ensure its safe-keeping transferred it into his own possession. It contained nine dollars and fifteen cents. This is William's statement. He further alleges that when he called a day or two after to get his money from Black he was met with a refusal, and came away without it. To facilitate its return, he made information before Alderman McMasters against Black for larceny as bailee, making the statement as given. The Alderman issued a warrant for the arrest of Black.

Man Dangerously Cut.

The knife was again brought into dangerous play on Saturday night. A man named Peter Hamill was the victim, and was very seriously, possibly fatally injured. It appears that Hamill and a man named John Callahan had been drinking together in a doggery in Lyttle's Row, near Everson & Preston's mill, in the Sixth ward. Between eleven and twelve o'clock a quarrel arose between them from some cause, and from words they promptly passed to blows. While they were scuffling, it is said Hamill bit Callahan in the hand slightly. Callahan then drew a knife and struck Hamill with it, inflicting a deep and dangerous gash in the left breast, above the heart. The wound, as we said, is a deep one and tends upwards. After the cutting Callahan endeavored to escape, but was promptly arrested by Lieutenant Fowler and officer Gillespie, who brought him to the lockup, where he still remains awaiting the result of Hamill's injuries. The latter was conveyed to the boarding house of Mrs. Nancy Wright, where he now is. He was attended by Dr. Arthurs, who pronounced his wound a very serious one. Both Hamill and Callahan were employed at Matthews's bake ovens.

A DELUGE.

Break in a Sewer and What Came of it —Tenements in Hardscrabble Deluged and Inmates Flooded Out—Work for the Benevolent.

The rain storm of Friday evening was one of the heaviest we have been visited with for some time, and while leaving its marks in cleaner thoroughfares, cooler atmosphere and rejuvenated nature in the city and suburbs, in one district of our city at least, the noted "Hardscrabble," was followed by effects which were not of such a pleasant and desirable character. Our readers must all remember the Try street sewer, a very appropriate name, as it is certainly one of the most trying specimens of workmanship which the city has ever been troubled with. Well, last Tuesday another break occurred in this sewer, in that part of it which traverses Watson street. The break caused a large part of the ground within a few feet from Shingess street to be washed away, leaving a large hole or basin, about thirty feet in depth, in the middle of the street. The water, however, found its way through a small opening which still remained in the sewer, and the damage was not at once repaired, that work being put off for a more convenient season. It remained in this condition until the storm of Friday night, when the rain began to fall in torrents. About half-past nine o'clock the water had collected in large volume in the upper part of the sewer, and came rushing through with terrific force until its progress was checked by the break, the outlet to which had by this time became choked up with the falling debris from the sides loosened by the rain. The course of the flood being thus suddenly arrested, the water collected in the basin, which in a few minutes was filled to the level of the street, and then it had an unobstructed passage. On the lower side of Watson street, and standing with their first floors several feet below the grade, are about a dozen frame tenement houses, two stories high, and each occupied by two families, one above and another below stairs. The families in most of these had retired for the night, and were suddenly awakened by the noise of the rushing torrent, which poured into the lower apartments, filling them with a muddy, filthy overflow five or six feet deep. Beds, tables, chairs and everything movable in the rooms very soon floated around in the water and were completely saturated with it.

In many instances the inmates barely escaped drowning, so rapidly were their apartments filled. Everything in the rooms of a perishable nature, such as food, clothing, bedding, &c., was completely destroyed, while that which was saved is almost worthless from the effects of the mud, the saturation of the water, and knocking about. The mud left by the water after it had subsided covered the walls and floors to the depth of several inches, and rendered the rooms wholly untenantable.

In about half an hour after the deluge the obstruction in the outlet to the sewer break gave way and the water commenced to abate, but did not all disappear for several hours, and left behind it all the filth and scum which had been carried along in its course. When the break could be seen Saturday morning a dray was found among the debris which had been drawn in during the evening.

In some instances the escapes from drowning were exceedingly narrow. The first house was occupied by Mrs. Mary Porter and her daughter, who were only saved by being drawn up through a hole cut in the floor of the upper room. In the second house Mr. John Hogan, after great difficulty, succeeded in saving all his family except the infant, which in the confusion had been left behind. Michael Cary, a young man, upon learning this, went into the house again and rescued the child, which was sleeping in its cradle, which had been floating around in the water.

The third house was occupied by Mrs. Phoebe Mason, a widow, whose husband died about three weeks since, leaving six children dependent on her for support.

Mr. Joseph Spencer, Robert Montgomery, Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. Jones, Jas. Skelton, Mr. John Kearney and Mrs. Mary Flinn, occupied the remainder of the houses in the order named. They lost all. Seven of the houses were owned by Mr. Thomas Patch, one by Mrs. Ferguson, one by Mrs. Mullen, and the others by Mr. James McCabe.

The families who suffered by the affair are most of them in indigent circumstances, and having thus lost their all, are left entirely destitute. Everything they had was lost and in many cases they were without any clothing, and without the means of procuring a meal. Through the kindness of neighbors they were furnished with temporary shelter, but some other means should be provided to relieve their necessities. There is a work for the benevolent and charitable here which we hope will be improved. Donations of money, clothing, provisions etc., if left at the Mayor's office will be distributed carefully and be thankfully received.

It has been said that some malicious parties purposely obstructed the sewer, and in order that they may be detected, Mr. David Steen, proprietor of the coal yard, in the vicinity, offers a reward of two hundred dollars for their arrest and conviction.

Some of the citizens of the neighborhood complain grievously that the gutters of the higher side of the street have been filled up and made instead of water conductors regular embankments or small mountains of coal dust and slack, the debris from the coal yards in the vicinity. If this is so, and has helped to make the flood so destructive to property, those causing the nuisance should be punished. At the next meeting of Councils the whole matter will come up in a petition for the relief of the sufferers, and we trust that while liberal, just and generous remuneration will promptly be made, that the matter of filling up the gutters and obstructing the streets will receive due attention.

A Man Brutally Cuts His Wife.

John McCann and his wife, Catharine McCann, residents of the Twelfth ward, engaged in a social spree, on Saturday night, getting drunk together. The festivity resulted in a quarrel and yesterday morning it was renewed, when John drew a large knife and inflicted three ugly wounds on the person of his wife, one on the right shoulder, one on the neck, breast and one on the back of the neck. The wounds are painful, but the attending physician does not entertain any idea of their resulting fatally. McCann was arrested and taken before Alderman Herron, who committed him to jail, in default of $3,000 bail, to answer the charge of felonious assault at the next term of the Criminal Court.

AQUATIC.

Saturday evening, Hamill and Coulter, the oarsmen, met at the La Belle Saloon, on Smithfield street, and settled the preliminary arrangements for a five mile race, in accordance with a challenge issued by Coulter some five weeks ago, but not accepted until last week by Hamill. When the principals met a lengthy discussion ensued relative to the time for the match, Hamill contending that it must take place in three weeks or not at all, while Coulter strenuously argued in favor of one week later, giving as a reason that he wished to get a new boat and have some practice in it before the race. The matter was finally settled by Coulter acceding to the proposition of Hamill, and consenting to have the race come off on Saturday, August 7th.

The following articles of agreement were then signed, which completed the preliminaries:

Articles of Agreement between James Hamill, of Pittsburgh, and Henry Coulter, of Manchester, Pa.

ARTICLE 1. An outside boat becomes entitled to the inside track only when her stern has been sufficiently ahead of the inside boat to show clear water between them.

2. Any boat swerving from a direct course, in order to impede the progress of the other boat, shall be ruled out.

3. The boats shall toss for choice of positions before starting in the race.

4. The race shall take place at Pittsburgh, on the course of the Monongahela River over which Mekiel and Coulter rowed their race. The race to take place three weeks from this date, on Saturday, August 7th, at the hour of 4 o'clock P. M. The race to be five miles, starting from Haberman's Coal Tipple to Phillips' Hollow, being two miles and a half from stake-boat, and return.

5. There shall be two buoy-boats, each man turning his own buoy-boat from left to right—the distance from the buoy-boats to be twenty-five yards.

6. Smooth water shall be required for the race, the condition of the water to be judged of and decided by the referee. The gentleman named and agreed upon for this office shall be appointed on the day of the last deposit, which shall be five days before the day of the race, being Tuesday, August 3d.

7. The boats shall be started at the word "go," said word to be given by the referee. Time shall be taken when the winning boat crosses the line.

8. The race shall be for a purse of one thousand dollars.

9. The money is all to be deposited in the hands of ——— ———, at least five days before the day appointed for the race. Either party failing to come forward at the time stated in these articles shall forfeit the amount previously in the hands of the stakeholder.

10. If the day named is unsuitable the race shall take place on the first fair day thereafter.

11. In case the judges appointed by Messrs. Hamill and Coulter fail to agree to appoint a referee, then it becomes the duty of the final stakeholder to appoint such referee.

12. There shall be an additional deposit of two hundred dollars made on Wednesday, July 28th, between the hours of nine and ten o'clock A. M., in addition to one hundred dollars now deposited.

JAMES HAMILL,
HENRY COULTER.

Witnesses—James Scott and Thos. Pender.

The representatives of the men will meet to-day and appoint the stakeholder.

Park Notes.

A few days since, in noticing the movement toward the erection of a monument in honor of Humboldt, in the Allegheny Park, we suggested that the memory of Burns might be honored very appropriately by a similar testimonial. Since then we are pleased to note that the suggestion has been favorably received by the admirers of the poet, who are about to inaugurate a movement in that direction. The affair as yet has hardly assumed a definite shape, but judging from the character of those having it under consideration, there is little doubt but that the monument ere long will ornament some section of the Park.

The Commission contemplate the completion, in a short time, of a carriage way from the foot to the summit of Seminary Hill, as proposed in the plan of the improvement. They will do this in advance af the other work, in order that citizens who so desire may have the benefit these summer days and evenings of the magnificent view from the hill top, without the fatigue and trouble in ascending on foot, as the case now is.

A few days since a number of seats of a new pattern and specially adapted for the purpose, were ordered from Boston for the Park. They will be placed at convenient distances along the main avenues and under the shade (to be) of the trees, so as to afford every comfort to the tired promenaders.

It has been observed that the smoke issuing from the locomotives of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago and Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railways, deposits soot upon the lake and the trees along the line of the track through the Park. When the flowers are planted this, of course, will be much more observable and tend to destroy their fragrance and beauty. To obviate this difficulty, it has been suggested that the railway companies be requested to do away with the use of soft coal and use coke in their engines used for drawing trains over this portion of the track. There is no doubt if this were brought before the companies interested, judging from their well known liberality and generosity, and the favor with which they have looked upon the improvements, that they would readily adopt the idea, or if it was found to be impracticable, some other scheme could be devised to answer the purpose indicated.

A Bold Burglar.

Yesterday morning, between three and four o'clock, the boarding house of Mr. J. Johnston, No. 88 Beaver street, Second ward, Allegheny, was made a field of operations by a bold and daring burglar. The rascal gained an entrance through one of the dining room windows, the shutters of which had, by some mishap, been left open the evening before. Once inside the house he ransacked it with great coolness and deliberation, going from one room to another and emptying the pockets of the boarders of all they contained. In this manner he had secured about forty dollars in cash and a watch valued at twenty dollars, when he entered the room of Mr. Cadiz, one of the boarders, and was leisurely going through his pockets when that gentleman awoke and called out to him. Not receiving an answer, Mr. Cadiz rightly suspecting the intruder to be a thief, arose from his bed and made a grasp at him but missed his hold and saw the retreating form pass quickly down stairs and out the window. Following, he chased the thief out into the street and several squares from the house, until he darted up an alley and escaped. The police were notified of the affair, but could find no trace of the fellow, and it is probable he will have the enjoyment of his ill gotten gains.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Full Bench.

In this Court, on Saturday, the following sentences were pronounced:

Henry Little, convicted of burglary, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and undergo six months' imprisonment in the county jail.

John Law, convicted of receiving stolen goods, was sentenced to undergo twenty months' imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

Thomas Morgan, convicted of larceny, was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of twenty months in the Western Penitentiary.

Stewart Sampson, convicted of aggravated assault and battery, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and to undergo two years confinement in the penitentiary.

Owen Sullivan, convicted of rescuing a prisoner, was sentenced to pay a fine of seventy-five dollars and costs.

John Wallaker, convicted of assault and battery, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, the costs of prosecution, and undergo twenty days' imprisonment in the county jail.

Charles St. Clair, convicted of larceny, was brought out for sentence, but was again remanded.

On the Wing.

The famous Allegheny Quartette Club, of whom every lover of melody hereabouts has pleasant recollections, contemplate making a tour of the principal cities and towns of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, starting on Monday next, and being absent three or four weeks. The members of the "Quartette," Prof. W. B. Slack, Harry Horner, W. H. Slack and J. M. Darling, are all masters of the "art melodious," and each in his special line inimitable. By constant and studious practice, and the most rigid care and cultivation, they have trained their voices to join in perfect harmony and with silvery sweetness, while the choice and exquisite selections of which their repertoire consists, combines to render their entertainments of the most attractive and delightful character, a fact which has its strongest evidence in the crowded audiences of the most fastidious critics, which have always greeted their performances here. There is a charm and a beauty, and a force in ballad melody, especially when rendered in faultless style, and with feeling, which renders such entertainments irresistibly attractive, and accounts for the great popularity of the "Quartette" who have made this field in music a special feature. We bespeak for them a hearty reception from every lover of true, soul moving music, wherever they may sojourn, and anticipate their return after an agreeable jaunt, with renewed and brighter laurels.

The New Brighton Herald.

[Correspondence of the the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., July 16, 1869.

My caption is the name of a new paper that has just made its appearance in our midst, and is to be "published every Friday by McKee and Wilson, editors and publishers, near the corner of Broadway and Falls streets, New Brighton, Pa." The Herald is an eight column journal of four pages, executed in a neat and attractive style, and promises to be a first class sheet of its kind. Our acquaintance with the publishers has not been extensive, yet we have reason to believe, from what we have seen and heard, that they are equal to the work they have undertaken, and will furnish the people of this community a paper worthy of their patronage.

It seems strange to us, who have not lived here always, that New Brighton should have been so long without a newspaper, even though there are three issued weekly at the county seat, and three miles distant. The vicinity could support it alone, and do it well, but we hope the Herald will be a welcome visitor throughout all the region around us, and that the publishers will always have reason to bless the day they undertook the worthy enterprise. Success to the New Brighton Herald! C.

NEW BRIGHTON, July 16, 1869.

On Friday a heavy thunder storm passed over this place about noon. A great many of the beautiful trees, that adorn the town and make it look like a forest city, were blown down, others badly broken. Fruit trees shared the same fate.

A number of stables and small buildings we learn were blown down, and windows were broken, by the slamming of the shutters, which the inmates had not time to have closed. The tower of the First Methodist Church, Railroad street, was also slightly damaged, by the breaking in of the open work.

The weather has been very hot and sultry for several days. It is pleasant now after the storm. C.

A Desirable Location.

Hoboken, a new station on the line of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, within a few minutes' ride of Allegheny, presents superior attractions to persons desiring a suburban home, and is certainly one of the most desirable locations for this purpose to be found anywhere among our surroundings. It is but eight miles from the city, and within easy communication by the accommodation trains, which pass to and fro at short intervals during the day and evening. The land, rising gradually backward by a gentle slope from the river and railroad, and commanding a broad and unobstructed view of the winding stream in front, and the lovely country on either side for several miles, is admirably situated and possesses all the requisites of handsome building sites.

Aside from this, owing to its location, while removed from the turmoil and heat and dust of the city, it yet combines the business, educational and other attractions of the city, with the pure, health-giving atmosphere and quiet pleasures of a country life. These are facts which seem to have been appreciated by some persons, as is evidenced by the rapidity with which the ground is being disposed of and the number of dwellings which have been erected since the opening of the station but a short time ago. There is still, however, a portion of the most desirable of the land unsold, and if there are any others who wish to secure a suburban and comfortable home on the most favorable terms, they should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Capt. R. Robinson, No. 75 Federal street, Allegheny, the gentlemanly agent of the Hoboken Land Company, will be pleased to give any information relative to prices, &c., and will accompany visitors to the location, that they may judge by personal inspection of its merits.

Great Reduction for Cash Only.

Owing to the death of the senior member of the firm, and the necessity of settling the estate immediately, we propose to make a great reduction in the prices of our entire stock of dry goods, commencing the sale on Monday, July 19th, and continuing until the first day of August. Many of the goods will be sold at much less than cost, and will comprise fall and winter, as well as summer goods. Those desirous of obtaining some of the greatest bargains ever offered in dry goods should not neglect this sale at the storerooms of J. W. Barker & Co., 59 Market street and 20 Sixth (formerly St. Clair) street.
